

Energizing People and their Enterprise: To teams and their leaders:

Positive Matrix™ is a collaborative team meeting system. As a result of a Positive Matrix™ meeting, people experience a renewed connection to their issues and to each other. They are re-energized by ownership of outcomes expressing commitment to agreed actions.

What people say

- Creates flow, creates spirit of team, expands the sense of self, builds on creativity
- Creating new directions through collaborative design and sharing leadership
- We created a group energy or "bubble"
- Thoughtful questions
- Getting lots more done than in previous meetings
- All voices being heard equally via the tool...

Experience strength-based approaches to leadership and innovation

Apply the practice of Positive Psychology

You can design your own meetings and structure a series of provocative questions around your specific topics. As we move in the direction of the questions that we most frequently and routinely ask, let's ask about what works, and what's possible! Let's direct our energy to positive and life-nurturing capabilities to facilitate the best, most positive and lasting results we care about!

How it works

The facilitator* unpacks her portable kit, plugs in the keyboards and connects the hardware to her computer. Minutes later she starts the meeting. Everyone discusses the topic in groups then types their ideas. The ideas are projected onto a screen and are read aloud to help synthesize the collective knowledge. A copy of the meeting report with all the ideas can be e-mailed instantly to all participants.

* Consultants, managers, leaders, or change agents in a consulting or team development role.

The system

- Portable wireless: 8 keyboards
- Network-Internet from the desk-top: Site License for 12 to 2000 users
